The Career Development Association of Australia (CDAA) is a national organisation of practitioners who work in the career development industry either for themselves or others, providing a range of career services for people entering the workforce, managing their work and life roles, or changing careers.

Members work in a range of settings, including small to medium businesses, education, employment, rehabilitation, corporations, human resources, government service and community.

This site contains information and resources about the career development industry, careers practice and the CDAA.
